HE WENT AWAY FOR HIS HEALTH AND EXPECTS TO PAY UP.

THE ESSEX COUNTY COUNTRY CLUB.

The Old Essex County Hunt Gives Way to a New Social Organization.

On the Monday which will be celebrated as New Year's Day the formal opening of the new and elegant club house of the Essex County Country Club, located at the corner of W. 1st St. and W. 2nd St., will be held. This club is the outgrowth of the Essex County Hunt, and is modeled somewhat after the Tuxedo Park. Last spring many of the wealthy members of the Hunt put into execution a project which had long been spoken of among them. The Hunt could not be revived directly because of the organization was desired, for reasons connected with the nature of its membership. It was therefore dissolved, and the present organization formed, its membership including many of the Hunt and others not of that organization. It has been slowly growing in numbers since. Every person proposed is subjected to rigid investigation, the idea being to have a club which is absolutely exclusive, but also a social and fashionable standpoint. Among its members are A. Pennington Whitehead, Frederic Frelinghuysen, and William Clarke of Newark; Stephen Van Rensselaer, Charles Heckscher, Edward D. Page, Powers Farr, Henry A. Page, and Bleeker Van Wageningen; and from New York, Douglas Robinson, Jr., E. D. Robinson, Jr., Robert Soderwick, and Eugene Kelly. There are also members from Morrisville, Short Hills, Madison, Montclair, and other neighboring towns.

The club has been open in looking for a suitable location for a club house and grounds. A desirable tract of land was hard to find near the city, but a tract of about 100 acres was drawn. Last month, however, the club leased for two years, with the privilege of purchasing, a tract of about 100 acres, situated about a mile west of Orange Station, on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western road, near the intersection of the road with the road from the street, and is reached by a private road.

The tract comprises nearly fifty acres of every sort of land. There are meadows as well as woods, and the latter are of various kinds, including oak, hickory, and white pine. There are also three deep and romantic rivers, through which the road runs. The house is a very large and natural and partly artificial. The house, standing upon a hill near the center of the tract, is a very large and natural and partly artificial. THE WORLD'S SLANDER OF THE NUNS.

More Proof That It Was a Wanton and Malicious Attack.

It is very safe to say that one place in which Pulitzer's newspaper will circulate in the future even less than it does in Elizabeth City, N. H., is in the Catholic Church in that city, but members of all religious denominations are indignant at the unblinking repetition by that paper of the false statement that the nuns in the Dominican Convent at Elizabethport are in a state of destitution, and that the ones responsible for this are the Roman Catholic residents of Elizabethport and their parish priest, Father Gessner. When Pulitzer's paper published this calumny it did so in spite of the declaration by the Mother Superior of the convent, Sister Charandis, that the story was utterly untrue, and of the positive assertion of Father Gessner to the same effect. The motive of the publication could not, of course, have been that of furnishing accurate news, but was solely that of injuring the Sisterhood and a revered priest.

The editor of the paper who took yesterday's leading Catholics in Elizabethport found that indignation was a mild word to use in characterizing the reaction to the story. He said: "We denounced the World in the strongest language. The words 'lying sheet' were the only ones used."

"We all knew," said one man, "that the Sisters in Elizabethport were in a state of destitution, and that the ones responsible for this are the Roman Catholic residents of Elizabethport and their parish priest, Father Gessner. When Pulitzer's paper published this calumny it did so in spite of the declaration by the Mother Superior of the convent, Sister Charandis, that the story was utterly untrue, and of the positive assertion of Father Gessner to the same effect."

Patric Gessner, against whom the venom of the clergy seems chiefly directed, and another gentleman, "has been with us now about fifteen years. He is one of the most intelligent and successful business men in Elizabethport. Since he has been here he has built a fine, large parochial school building, a magnificent church, and a very fine house. He has also built a fine, large parochial school building, a magnificent church, and a very fine house."

The Mother Superior of the convent here, Sister Charandis, said yesterday that the story in the World was a lie, and that she had no knowledge of it. NEWS OF THE BALL PLAYERS.

The Question of an Eighth Club in the Association About Settled.

President Byrne of the Brooklyn Club has been hard at work ever since the American Association meeting at Cincinnati, assisting the committee which was organized at that time for the purpose of settling the question of an eighth club to take the place of the Metropolitans. Mr. Byrne said last night that the work had been so far advanced that by the end of the next ten days the matter of selecting the club would be fully settled. It is not a matter of drumming up a city in which to put the club, but of selecting from among the many applicants the one best fitted to fill the place. It is strongly suspected that one of the New York State cities will be the successful applicant. The franchise is now owned by the American Association.

Des Moines, Dec. 22.—To settle the important question as to whether "Hooper" should go to the St. Louis Browns or to Des Moines—both clubs claiming him for next year's season—Hooper's manager, Mr. Hooper, has made a decision. He has decided to keep Hooper in Des Moines, and to let the Browns have him for next year's season.

A dispatch was found by W. H. Goldsby, Esq., in Des Moines, Iowa, yesterday, expressing willingness to sign with St. Louis, but it was sent on the 19th, which was a day before the season of the American Association at the late meeting of the league. Hooper therefore goes to Des Moines.

Lincoln, Dec. 22.—Chas. Hoover, the catcher of the Lincoln Baseball Club, in the Western League, the past season, appeared in the District Court yesterday, and was fined $50 for assault. Hoover was sent to jail two weeks ago, with a fair prospect of the penitentiary, being charged with the assault on a woman. Hoover shot a hunkman. In court to-day, under the plea of his attorney, the lighter charge was accepted, and Hoover was released. He would pay out of the fine, and the parish is not a dollar in debt. He bought the present contract of the Lincoln club for the coming year. He has been a popular player in the Western League, and his signing with Chicago has been on a celebration the greater part of the time.
